Hill in trust for her support and for the support of her two other sisters as long as they remain single. In the event of the marriage of either it shall be used for the suport of those remaining single and on their death shall be divided equally between her two sons.

ACTORS START FEUD OVER FIGHT IN FILM

Kenneth Harlan and Harry Carter, both of whom take prominent parts in "The Marriage Lie," which will be seen at the Grand tomorrow until a few weeks ago were pals. Now they don't speak as they pass, and all because of a fight supposed to be staged in the picture.

The scenario called for Kenneth being knocked out by Carter. Heretofore in all of his pictures, Harlan has demanded realism. Carter thought he also wanted realism in "The Marriage Lie." When the time came for the fight, Carter failed to "pull the punch," which landed flush on the jaw of Harlan. Then it was real curtains for K. H. It was realistic.

Harlan didn't say a great deal when he recovered. His only remark was: "I'll get that guy," meaning Carter.

A comedy also will be shown.

TO EXTEND WAR EMERGENCY

"Rider" Will be Attached to Army Appropriations Budget

Reorganization of the army from a war to peace basis for the present is a dead issue.

This was determined by the House Military Affairs Committee yesterday after Secretary Baker and Chief of Staff March had appeared in behalf of the Administration plan to make permanent the organization developed by the war and to provide for a force of 500,000 men.

To meet the situation arising from the fact that, under the law, virtually all of the enlised men must be released within four months after the signing of the peace treaty, the committee will attach to the army appropriation bill a legislative rider providing for the extension of the emergency organization for one year. The appropriations to be carried will allow for a volunteer force equal to that proposed in the department's plan.

Along with the decision not to undertake to reorganize the army at this time, the question of universal military training also is laid on the table. Secretary Baker said he would not make any recommendations along that line, and the committee will not consider such a policy.

COURT OF APPEALS

The folowing were among the opinions handed down yesterday by Judge Stafford C. Whittle of the State Court of Appeals:

Washington and Old Dominion Railway vs. Warner; Circuit Court of Alexandria County. Judgment affirmed.

Washington Southern Railway Company vs. Grimes's Administrator; Circuit Court of Fairfax County. Judgment reversed.

YOUTH KILLED BY STREET CAR

Ten Year Old Richmond Boy Run Down at Hull and Sixteenth Streets

Richmond, Jan. 17.—Ten year old Robert Henry Garnett ran from behind a wagin into the way of a Hull Street car at Hull and Sixteenth streets Wednesday afternoon and was instantly killed. The accident took place at 3:20 o'clock as the lad was returning from school.

His body was almost entirely cut in twain by the street car wheels. E. F. Smith, who was in charge of the car, was arrested, but released on bail, pending an investigation and the coroner's findings.

The victim was the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Garnett, 218 East Eighth street.

INGOMAR TONIGHT

A combination of realism and romance is offered in Vivian Martin's new Paramount picture, "Jane Goes a-Wooing," which will be presented at the Ingomar Theatre tonight.

Vivian is seen as a courageous little Irish girl who is left with the care of her twin sisters when her father, who is an irresponsible vagabond, deserts and leaves his three children destitute.

RICHMOND THEATRE

Charlie Chaplin, the world's funniest screen comedian, will be seen at the Richmond tonight and tomorrow in a 4-reel superduction, "Charlie's Stormy Romance," a picture filled with fun from the start until the last. If you want to enjoy a good laugh see "Charlie's Storm Romance."

Little Gloria Joy will also be shown in "I Want to be a Lady."

TWO OIL SHIPS DESTROYED

$1,000,000 Fire in Philadelphia Follows Explosion.

Philadelphia, Jan. 17.—A million-dollar fire at the docks of the Atlantic Refining Company resulted yesterday from an explosion of oil aboard the tanker Roald Amundsen. The interior of this ship was burned out and its $100,000 cargo of oil was destroyed. The flames spread to the loaded tanker Kjobenhavn and it also was badly damaged.

One workman jumped into the Delaware river to escape the burning oil and was drowned. Nine others were taken to hospitals seriously burned. One or more may die. All are foreigners.

An official of the Atlantic Company is authority for the statement that the loss on ships, barges, docks and oil will be at least $1,000,000.

FOOD PRICES TO STAND

No Appreciable Drop in Sight, Says Wholesale Grocers' Head

New York, Jan. 17.—There is no immediate hope of an appreciable reduction in food prices, according to Sylvan L. Stix, president of the Wholesale Grocers' Association, in addressing the annual convention of that body held here Wednesday. Mr. Stix declared that the process of readjusting food prices will extend over a number of years and probably will never revert to the old standard. One reason was the increased production of gold.

Domestic and foreign demand would fully take care of food stocks now in sight until the new crop period, he said.

SUDDEN AND VITAL CHANGE

London Thinks a Renewal of Hostilities Possible on Account of Drastic Conditions To Germany

The Central News of London declares that as a result of the Allied discussions in Paris, the whole aspect of demobilization has undergone a sudden and vital change, this being shown in the drastic conditions demanded of Germany for a renewal of the armistice.

"On authority of an unimpeachable character," says the Centra News, "It can be stated that a situation exists in Europe under which war may break out again at any moment, The Allied War Council has arrived at a decision which means that the British people have mistaken the appearance of peace for reality. This decision means that the New British Ministry must revise the whole scheme of army demobilization.

"The decision is that Great Britain in proportion to its military strength must maintain an army of occupation on the Rhine for many months. If the rapid increase in demobilization recently announced were continued there would, in a few months, be no army in France to undertake the obligations which, by common decision of the Allies, have been placed upon British shoulders."

RED CROSS IN BERLIN

Succor Wounded of Government Forces And Spartacans, Also Have Neutral Band.

Berlin, Jan. 17.—In the street fighting the Red Cross workers have been where the firing was the fiercest succoring the wounded, and their work was not light. Perhaps of the contending forces 350 were killed and from 700 to 1,000 wounded. The Red Cross workers, all volunteers, were divided into three groups, one going with the Government troops, one with the Spartacans and one being neutral. They were known by Red Cross sleeve bands, having red borders around the arm.

Most of the stretcher-bearers furnished their own equipment of bandages and drugs, which are very expensive, though paper bandages replace those of cotton. Sometimes rich persons helped to fit out the volunteers.

The Spartacans' sentinels had peculiar ideas regarding the status of the Red Cross. Stopping an ambulance which was transporting wounded, they searched the locker, and finding some sandwiches, said that the Convention of Geneva had been violated because the ambulance was "transporting supplies to the enemy." Thereupon the "supplies" were confiscated and consumed on the spot.

Most of the wounded were taken to the central city hospital.

ADDRESS BY MR. CARLIN

Tells of Visit to European Battlefields—Lauds Work of American Army and Navy—Praise for Splendid Work of Red Cross.

Before an audience that filled the auditorium of the War Camp Community Service Club to its capacity Representative Charles C. Carlin last night delivered an address on his recent visit to the battlefields of Europe under the auspices of the Cameron Club. The meeting was presided over by Miss Helen N. Cummings, president of the Cameron Club, also of the Women's Federation of Clubs.

This was Representative Carlin's first public address before an Alexandria audience since his return from Europe and for an hour and a half he kept his audience spellbound with his wonderful story of conditions as he found them in Europe, and what he saw on the battlefields and also of the happenings in Paris incident to the peace celebration.

Representative Carlin said in part: "Accompanied by my son I decided to take the safest method of travel and boarded the French liner Rochambeau which carried four excellent gun crews.

"After being out two or three days I was asked to address the troops aboard and did so as also did Patrick O'Brien, who was shot from an airplane abroad. Miss Margaret Wilson, wearing a Y. W. C. A., uniform sang for the troops.

"Arriving on the other side I learned the cause of the routing of the sea nonster, the submarines.

"The task of taking two and one-half million of our soldiers abroad without the loss of a single life seemed almost impossible. It, however, was due almost entirely to achievements by way of invention of American sailors to transport and convoy eighty-five per cent of American troops across the Atlantic.

"Arriving at London I heard a good deal of talk about the British navy. It is not true that the British navy won the war. Ninety-five per cent of the naval officers I talked to are of the opinion that the American navy today could successfully cope with the navy of any other nation in the world. I felt proud not only of the achievements of the American navy but of its personnel.

"We arrived at Bordeaux and soon I learned that the only branch of the army in which it is conceded we excel is the Engineering Corps. The engineers in less than four months built a wonderful drydock at this place, which is the largest in the world. It is nearly 4,000 feet long and all of the material was brought across the Atlantic. It is a monument to the American engineers.

First Glimpse of War.

"That night I got my first glimpse of real war. A Red Cross train of forty cars loaded with wounded was enroute to a hospital. It was a sickening sight. Despite the sadness and sorrow there were the women of the Red Cross.

"If ever there was an organization that humanity owes a debt to it is the Red Cross. The first hospital I visited was near Verdun and the first person to greet me was Miss Nannie Jones of Alexandria.

"I had just heard that the war then was only expected to last a week.

"Next I saw Gen. Pershing and never was more favorably impressed with a man. I spent two hours with him. He is every inch in appearance a soldier and I believe 100 per cent American. From him I learned conditions in the army. I believe he would have rather had a complete military victory. He said it would only take three weeks to capture or annihilate the German army, so the German hastened for an armistice which was almost as pitiful as the German navy surrendering without firing a shot.

"On the battlefield the saddest sight of all is to see the graves. In Argonne Forest and Bellieux Woods marked by steel helmets and a little wooden cross. There were many interred on the field and their casket consisted of the victim's army blanket.

"The American soldier is well fed. I was unable to get a square meal except when I took dinner with the American soldiers. Prices then prevailing were very high eggs selling at $1.25 each and apples at $1 each.

"I was in Paris during the peace jubilee. It was the first time in four years that the lights had been turned on. You can hardly imagine the rejoicing that occurred. Americans were there showing them how to rejoice. I never saw a drunken Frenchman in all France. Everyone appeared happy despite the fact that practically every woman I saw was in mourning.

"The following day after the signing of the armistice all wanted to know what hapened to the kaiser. It was first learned he had attempted to get to England and was prevented from doing so by his own troops.

"In England they said they would either exile or execute him. However, if they would turn him over to the French people there would not be any occasion for either.

"In northern France there is not a single house left standing in the thirty five cities and villages where I visited It is a wonder to me that the French people lived through it all.

"In Nayon nothing remained standing except the remains of the Notre Dame Church which it took a 100 years to build.

"The American soldier is found everywhere in Europe. He has had his hardships. Wherever you go you find them; they are singing. There spirit is a remarkable thing and it is this spirit that has brought peace to the world.

All Claim Victory

"Every side in Europe is claiming victory. My observation is it took us all to win the war.

"There are two causes that produced a sudden collapse of the German army. First it was a unity of command when accomplished. Gen. Pershing's action surprised them. He mobilized the American army and won with forty divisions. There never was a better army in the world than the American army that faced the German in Argonne Forest.

"After the battle of Chateau-Tneirry there was no question but that the Americans saved the day.

"We showed the French and English how to do things in a hurry. The moment our army arrived it put spirit in the allied troops.

"Our motor truck and ambulance drivers did heroic work and walked right in the face of death. There are no class of men more brave.

"St. Mihiel proved to be the key that unlocked the door to get the German army.

It was a mistake that the German army was not supplied with food. The thing they lacked was munitions.

"When the armistice was signed a conference was held in London. If they will tell you what happened there you will know the reasen President Wilson crossed the Atlantic.

Regard Wilson as an Apostle.

"A spirit of greed and avarice prevails. I soon discovered there is one man in the world who might bring them to reason and is stronger than all with their people and he is Woodrow Wilson. President Wilson is regarded as an apostle. They believe Wilson is going to make a permanent peace. I am satisfied that the European people are so in accord with President Wilson's views that they will compel their representatives at the peace table to do so. No one nation in Europe trusts the other."

The meeting was opened with the singing of "The Star Spangled Banner" led by Homer Van Wie, of the War Camp Community Service after which a squad of Alexandria High School Cadets presented the colors and the meeting was concluded with the singing of "Keep the Home Fires Burning."

FUNERAL OF MRS. J. B. WRIGHT

The funeral of Mrs. James B Wright took place this afternoon from the residence of her sister, Mrs. W. H. Demaine, 819 King street. Services were conducted by Rev. Dr E. V Regester, pastor of the M. E. Church South. Pallbearers were H Marvin Demaine, Ernest Demaine, J. C. Richards, Maurice Wilkins, H. B. Richards and Archie Richards. Burial was in the Methodist Protestant cemetery.

INTERESTING READING

On King Lear Given by C. W. E. Griffith Last Night at St. Mary's Academy Before a Large and Appreciative Audience.

The Assembly Hall at St. Mary's was filled last evening by an appreciative audience for the reading of King Lear by Mr. C. W. E. Griffith whose portrayal of this great Shakespearean tragedy was truly wonderful.

Through such an interpreter as Mr. Griffith proved himself to be literature becomes a living force, an uplifting influence in teaching the great moral lessons hidden in the tragedies and the comedies of the world's Master poet.

"Lear" in the dotage of his four score years, driven to despair, maddened by the cruelty of ungrateful children will live in the memory of those who are privileged to see him through this reader's perfect impersonation.

Mr. Griffith is an artist who needs no assistance from stage craft or scenic effects. His art and his ideals rank him among the greatest educators of our day.

The lessons taught in the tragedy of Lear are especially opportune in our time and our country for irreverence and ingratitude are virtues generally acknowledged to be on the decline.

Mr. Griffith reads before the leading schools, colleges and universities of Europe and America. St. Mary's was fortunate in securing his services and both pupils and faculty look forward to hearing him now annually in his tours through this section.

HUMBLED BISMARCK

Vatican Was First Power to Clash With the New Prussianism

Rome, Jan. 17.—Bismarck negotiated with the last of the Popes to leave the Vatican walls—Pope Pius IX.

The passing of German power may see the self-inforced imprisonment of the head of the Roman Catholic Church ended.

Proposals are on foot for a renewal of friendly relations between the Italian Government and the Papal See.

Bismarck's negotiations with Pius IX came at the time of the Franco-Prussian War, a few weeks before the defeat of the French at Sedan.

The German leader asked the Pope to use his influence with the French clergy in the interest of what is now known as "a German peace."

The Pope and the French clergy both heard the proposition without enthusasm, and Bismarck declared: "The Papal hierarchy lacks either the power or the good will to afford Germany assistance enough to make it worth while."

Thus the Vatican became the first power to come into the clash with the new Prussianism after the fall of Napoleon at Sedan.

On the death of Pius a German comic paper represented him as demanding admission at the gates of Heaven. At the Pope's girdle hung the keys of St. Peter.

"But why should I open?" asks St. Peter. "You have the keys."

"Yes," replied the shade of the Pope, "but Bismarck has altered the lock."

TAKES HOLY CITY

Medina Capitulates Under Terms of Turkish Armistice

London, Jan. 17.—The Turks who have been holding out in Medina, holy city of the Mohammedan faith, have capitulated to the King of the Hedjaz, it was officially announced here yesterday. The capitulation was under the terms of the Turkish armistice. Announcing the capitulation and explaining the delay in securing it, the official statement says:

"The holy city of Medina has capitulated to King Hussein under the Turkish armistice terms. The delay in bringing the garrison to compliance with the terms was due to its long isolation, which necessitated our permitting the interchange of special communications with Constantinople and to permit this armistice period to be prolonged locally. It was rendered incumbent upon King Hussein to secure the capitulation by arrangement and not by assault.

"The Amir Abdulla, representing the King of the Hedjaz, officially entered Medina at 11 a. m. Monday. He was enthusiastically acclaimed and proceeded to the tomb of the prophet, where he offered the midday prayer."

NEW WORLD IDEALS

Settlement of War Terms Will be Dictated by Representatives of Era

Paris, Jan. 17.—The peace settlement will be dictated by representatives of the New World, final apportionment of conference delegates indicate.

The "balance of power" seems to be closely divided between the New and Old-World elemeits, but there is every reason to believe that the progressive altruism of the young democracies will triumph over the conservative egoism of the older nations in the final clash.

Of the twenty-eight countries officially admitted to the conferences to date, nine represent the New World and eleven the Old World, with the remaining eight inclined to lean toward the younger powers. As voting will be by delegations, the new world vote consists of the United States, Canada, Brazil, Cuba, Hayti, Guatemala, Honduras, Nicaragua and Panama.

The Old World representatives are Great Britain, France, Italy, Serbia, Belgium, Greece, Poland, Rumania, Czecho-Slovakia and Montenegro. Liberia, being under American protection, probably will line up with the New World representatives. It is regarded as certain that they also will attract the votes of the British dominions, which, while intimately related to the mother country, possess a thought and psychology that is essentially New World. This is especially true of Australia, New Zealand and South Africa.

The remaining vote consists of Japan, China, India and Siam, which are neither New World nor Old World, but are expected to play an important role by swinging the balance one way or the other on questions where the vote is close.

It is already apparant, however, that it is an error to consider the European participants as a solid block. While Great Britain, France, and Italy may show a strong tendency to influence traditional European viewpoints, several smaller nations, such as Serbia, Greece and Rumania, openly admit the only hope for their national aspirations is the triumph of President Wilson's principles. These represent the new world's ideals, of which the American delegation is rapidly becoming the leading champion and around which the New World thinkers are rallying.

From the above line-ups it can be accepted that, despite the closeness of division in voting power, the New World will determine the future for all the peoples.

BOY KILLED BY AUTOMOBILE

Was Crossing Street on Way Home From School.

Hagerstown, Md., Jan. 17.—Joseph Nicholas Pleasant, schoolboy, sustained fatal injuries yesterday afternoon while going home to lunch from Washington school, being struck by an automobile driven by Martin L. Smith, Western Pike, as the lad was crossing the street. He died an hour later at Washington Hospital, where Smith took him in his automobile after the boy had been given first aid in Knoisley's drug store.

Justice Howard P. Harman, acting coroner, conducted an investigation. The boy's skull was fractured at the base of his brain.

THE LATE MOSES GREEN

One of the most prominent politicians of the Eighth Congressional district passed away in Warrenton this week. Moses Green who was years ago as well-known in Alexandria as on his native heath, is no more. He had passed his eightieth milepost in his mundane career.

In years gone by Moses Green came to Alexandria bi-yearly as a delegate from Fauquier county to the democratic convention which nominated a candidate for Congress from this district. He was generally the pulse of the convention, and caused much humor by his ready repartee. Whole-souled and good-natured, he made friends wherever he went, and a convention without Moses Green was as Hamlet without Hamlet.

Mr. Green appeared here as a delegate in 1896, when the late John F. Rixey secured the nomination for Congress. The convention was held in the Opera House and was prolonged on account of the number of candidates aspiring for the position. M'Cabe, of Loudoun, was an aspirant who had to be dealt with, and a majority in Alexandria had groomed Frank Anderson for the position at an election in which Mr. Anderson was opposed by the late George Mushback. This was probably one of the most lively Congressional Conventions ever held in this city. But at times the proceedings became dull and uninteresting, and during such conditions some enlivening suggestion from Moses Green brought good humor to the delegates and spectators. After having been in almost continuous session for forty-eight hour, it was agreed to tender the nomination to Mr. Rixey.

Mr. Green, sustaining a fall several years ago, fractured his hip. From this he never recovered and had been an invalid since. He was a member of the Black Horse Cavalry during the Civil War, serving with great gallantry.

NATION-WIDE PROHIBITION

As has been stated in the Gazette, the ratification of the nation-wide prohibition amendment was announced in both houses of Congress yesterday and proclaimed by its supporters as one of the history-making events of the nation.

Senator Shepperd, of Texas, leader of the drys in the Upper House, made the announcement immediately after the chaplain's prayer, the telegraphic flash naming Nebraska as the thirty-sixth State having been delivered to him a few moments before the Senate convened. In the House the announcement was made by Representative Randall, of California, the only Prohibitionist ever elected to Congress.

Here are a few things the prohibition amendment will do:

Wipe out at a stroke 236 distilleries, 992 breweries and over 300,000 saloons and wholesale liquor houses, forcing their employes to seek other jobs.

Cut off from those persons an income totalin gmore than $70,000,000 in prewar times.

Cut off from the United States Treasury a source of taxation counted upon for an even $1,000,000,000 in the first drafts of the new revenue bill and millions in additional incomes to State treasuries.

Remove the liquor question from national, State and city politics for all time and help decrease city, State and Federal expense by decreasing law violations.

Improve public health and increase longevity to the economic value of billions of dollars.

Bring about a rapid decrease in many forms of insanity.

VIRGINIA NEWS

Moses M. Green, formerly member of the Virginia house of delegates, died Wednesday at Warrenton. The decedent fractured his hip in a fall several years ago and had been an invalid since. He ws 80 years old and a member of the Black Horse cavalry during the civil war.

Members of he crew of the schooner Edith, of Buenos Aires, arriving at New York yesterday, reported they passed three floating mines off the coast of Virginia last Monday morning. The Navy Department has been notified. Mine sweepers have been sent out.

Richard H. Mann, of Petersburg, who has been United States district attorney for the eastern district of Virginia since May, 1104, has resigned. Hiram M. Smih, of Richmond, was appointed his successor yesterday. Mr. Mann retired to devote his time to his private law practice.

Mabon Wright was acquitted by a Campbell county jury yesterday afternoon of the charge of murdering Miss Rosa Farmer in the mountains near Lynchburg on November 19, 1918. Wright still faces an indictment for criminal assault, but it is doubtful whether he will be tried on that charge.

One soldier was killed and five injured, two of them probably fatally at Harrisonburg last night when the leading truck of an army train plunged into a bridge and over an embankment on a road. The force of the big truck knocked the heavy iron bridge completely from its foundation to the road. The train was en route from Charlotte to Baltimore.

The Australian steamer Taparoa, with Australian officers and men aboard, arrived at Newport News yesterday from the other side, en route to Australia. The men, some of them, have been at the front for nearly four years. All declared they are sorry the armistice was signed when it was. "Fritz was in for a good licking, which we would have given him in about four more weeks," they said.

PRESIDENT OF BRAZIL DEAD

Dr. Rodriques Alves Succumbs After Long Illness.

Rio Janeiro, Brazil, Jan. 17.—Dr. Rodriques Alves, president-elect of Brazil, died yesterday. He had been critically ill for some time. Under the constitution an election will be held to choose a new president.

Dr. Francisco De P Rodriques Alves was one of the leading statesmen of Brazil. He served as president from 1902 to 1906, and was the only candidate for the presidency in 1918. He was elected under a pledge for a continuance of the war policies of the government of President Braz. Dr. Alves was not able to assume office on November 14, 1918, because of illness. Vice-President Delfin Moreira has been acting head of the government.

ARGENTINE STRIKES OUT

Disorders in Republic Cost Between 850 and 1,000 Lives.

Buenos Aires, Jan. 17.—At a conference with President Irigoyen Wednesday labor leaders agreed to call off all strikes now in force in Argentina, with the exception of the one which has virtually paralyzed shipping in the harbor. Telegrams received from different parts of the country during the evening indicated that conditions are much improved as a result of orders sent to the various unions.

President Iriogyen promised the labor representatives that he would do everything possible to meet the demands of the workmen, including wage increases. He also said that he would study the port strike with a view to arriving at some solution which would be satisfactory to both sides.

Recapitulation of the casualties inflicted during the disorders of the last week shows that between 850 and 1,000 persons were killed and from 3,500 to 5,000 were more or less seriously wounded. It is probable that the final figures will be much higher, as it is believed that many of the killed and wounded were carried away by the rioters.

Lima, Peru, Jan. 17.—As a result of the resolute attitude assumed by the Government a settlement of the strike here was reached late Wednesday night. Labor leaders agreed to accept a settlement on the basis of an eight hour day, which will be established throughout the republic. Workmen will continue receiving their present wages. Everything is quiet here, and it is expected that conditions will be normal today.

Military authorities have been named to replace the civil authorities in Lima and Callao for a period of 24 hours, virtually placing the cities under martial law. Lima is divided into two military districts and the city is patrolled by cavalry and armored cars.

LA FOLLETTE CLEARED

Senate by 50 to 21 Exonerates Wisconsin Member

By a vote of 50 to 21 the Senate yesterday adopted a resolution recommended by a majority of the privileges and elections committee, dismissing disloyalty charges brought against Senator La Follette, of Wisconsin, by the Minnesota public safety commission, because of his speech on the war delivered before the Nonpartisan League at St. Paul, Minn., September 20, 1917. The resolution said the speech did not justify any action by the Senate.

On the vote, which was preceded by a severe arraignment of Senator La Follette by Senators Williams, of Mississippi, 33 Republican senators and 17 Democrats supported the resolution, while 20 Democrats and 1 Republican (Senator Smith, of Michigan) voted against it. Among those voting in the affirmative were Senators Martin and Swanson.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

Three thousand Bolshevik suspects are reported to have been arrested in Budapest. All were said to be foreigners and have been ordered expelled from the country.

The first successful flight from England to India has just been achieved, British air minister announced officially last night immediately after word had been received that the giant Handley-Page machine which undertook the epoch-making voyage was just arriving at its destination.

The allied blockade of Germany has caused 800,000 deaths and still causes 10,000 deaths daily, according to Boersen Veitung. This paper appeals to Herbert Hoover to relieve the situation. The Prussian Jahrbuecher contains an article by Prof. Delbrueck advocating disarmament of Prussia. British troops are reported by the German press to have occupied Duseldorf; Bremen is in the hands of independent Socialists; the Spartacus revolt in Berlin appears broken, according to leading German newspapers comment.

A dispatch from Copenhagen says reports from reliable sources in Berlin indicate that Rosa Luxemburg, Dr. Karl Liebknecht's chief lieutenant in the Spartacan revolution, has been killed. Another dispatch, dated Amsterdam, declares she and Liebknecht have escaped to the Dutch frontier. It is unlikely that permission will be granted them to enter Holland, the Amsterdam message says. German soldiers surrounded Liebknecht's house in Berlin and arrested him and his family, the report reads. Under the pretext of telephoning, he escaped over the roofs of adjoining buildings.

Publicity scored an important point last night in its battle against secret diplomacy when the members of the various peace delegations met with American newspaper men at the Paris Press Club, for the purpose of exchanging views as to the best methods to be adopted in the relations between the Peace Conference and the press. The correspondents and British writers in the lead, fully and frankly laid their case before the plenipotentiaries. There are signs giving strong hope that the ruling shutting out public opinon will be rescinded.

Nearly 200 three-inch field guns, several thousand shells and more than $1,000,000 worth of harness and equipment—not surrendered by the Germans under the armistice terms—were discovered in an isolated workhouse near Coblenz yesterday. The Americans immediately seized the whole store. Inasmuch as it was not mentioned in German inventories, and not given up as provided by the armistice, these munitions become the property of the United States. A request for $12,000,000 to pay the third army's expenses during February has been sent to Berlin.

Bread lines all over the United States by the first of May, was the prediction of Frank Morrison, secretary of the American Federation of Labor, yesterday. He was addressing the House Committee on Immigration in support of a bill to prohibit immigration into this country for two years. "Just wait for thirty days from now," he exclaimed. Reports of unemployment which he said were dated January 14, were read to the committee. These figures showed that 40,000 persons were out of work in Cleveland; 5,000 idle in Youngstown now and three times as many to be thrown out of work within ten days; 9,000 unemployed in Portland, Oregon, and 7,000 in Milwaukee.

TRY TO SPLIT UP PARTY

Chairman of Labor Congress Unable to Obtain Interest for Thomas Mooney

Chicago, Jan. 17.—Although the National Labor Congress, made up of 1,500 trades union delegates from all parts of the United States was safely in the hands of the conservatives yesterday, the final session was not without Bolshevik demonstrations.

The "Reds" frequently interrupted proceedings to introduce radical resolutions and when night came there were 700 before the House. So far as possible Chairman E. D. Nolan, of San Francisco, held the convention to the prime question—ways and means to bring about the freedom of Thomas Mooney from the California pen, but speakers persisted in bobbing and utterances range in demands for a two-hour working day to attacks on Samuel Gompers.

The resolution presented by the Radicals dealt with practically all the problems of industry and politics. Many urged a general strike to free Mooney. The workers' council, of Butte, Mont., demanded an immediate country-wide walk-out, together with release by the government of all war prisoners. A San Francisco Printers' local wired a plea for liberation of war prisoners and the withdrawal of American troops from Russia.

During the morning the delegates thought of Mooney long enough to send him a telegram of sympathy.
